F. G. Miller Class of '11 celebrates

By VICKI BROOKER

Review Staff

"Wherever you go, go with all your heart..." was the message F. G. Miller High School's Class of 2011 took with them as they stepped down from the stage of the Elk Point Arts and Leisure Centre on Saturday evening, into a variety of promising futures.

Graduand Mason Smith started off the farewell ceremonies with O Canada, before principal Colin Bjorkman took over the microphone, noting that, "19 years ago, I don't remember what the principal or the other guest speakers said. I don't remember what I said (in the valedictory address) either. It's not about the speakers, it's about the memories you've made over the past 13 years, the friends, that's what you're celebrating."

Valedictorian Brendan Bishop concurred.

"Many of us have been together since kindergarten, and have become very close. We've achieved things we didn't think were possible because our classmates encouraged us and challenged us to do our best." He recalled field trips, Grade 6 camp, sporting events, music concerts, the P.A.R.T.Y. Program, and the trip to Greece that some of the class took part in this spring as "memories we made together. These bonds will never be broken."

"Tonight's our last opportunity to make memories as a whole class. Hold on to the lessons, and wherever you go, go with all your heart."

"You're now part of the F. G. Miller alumni," school board chairman Darrell Younghans told the class. "Carry the title forward with dignity, character and pride. F. G. Miller played a major part in forming your character. Elk Point has supported you and helped you to be the person you are today. Your parents passed on your name, wear it with pride. What you do, you do in their name." He urged the grads to "find balance. Let your dreams be a focal part of your life. Strive and work toward them. Go with all your heart... and keep your head in it."

Elementary students awarded for a very successful year

By VICKI BROOKER

Review Staff

Surrounded by the beginnings of an upgrading program in their school gymnasium, students and staff of Elk Point Elementary School celebrated the end of a tremendously successful year with their annual awards day.

Freshly painted walls are "just the beginning," said mistress of ceremonies Leanne Vinge as she welcomed the large crowd of proud parents and family members. "When we come back in September, it will be a sparkling new gym."

"A lot of helping hands" had cleaned up after the previous day's paint job, principal Lorne Young noted. "On Monday, they're ripping this floor out. It's an expensive project." He thanked school board chairman Darrell Younghans for helping to make the upgrade possible, and noted that funds for the renovation are coming from a totally different funding pool than teachers' wages, and could only be used for this and other facility-related projects, with upgrades also slated for F. G. Miller High School.

"Elk Point schools will be among the best in the division," he noted.

An upgraded school is a fitting setting for EPE students, who, Young said, "went over and above what was expected of them, and the staff that helped them get there." In the accelerated reading program, he said, all students in Grades 2 to 6 achieved the goals they had set, for example, and "four students, Alyssa Adkins, Katelyn Boratynec, Christopher Boratynec and Eric Stuparyk, had perfect scores on one of their Grade 6 achievement exams. Usually, we get one perfect score about every two years."

Younghans added his congratulations to the high achievers, and said he was also commented on the large number of students who would receive citizenship awards. "Good citizenship is the responsibility of all of us, and these students get the support of their parents, at this school and at the division level." He thanked the awards day sponsors, both corporate and individual, and gave special recognition to the family of the late Grace Franks and to Ed and Joanne Bespalko for the awards they present each year..

"Be proud of what you have accomplished," he told the students, as the awards presentations began.

Younghans also had the honour of presenting the St. Paul Education Regional Division No. 1 Grade 6 Academic Award to Eric Stuparyk.

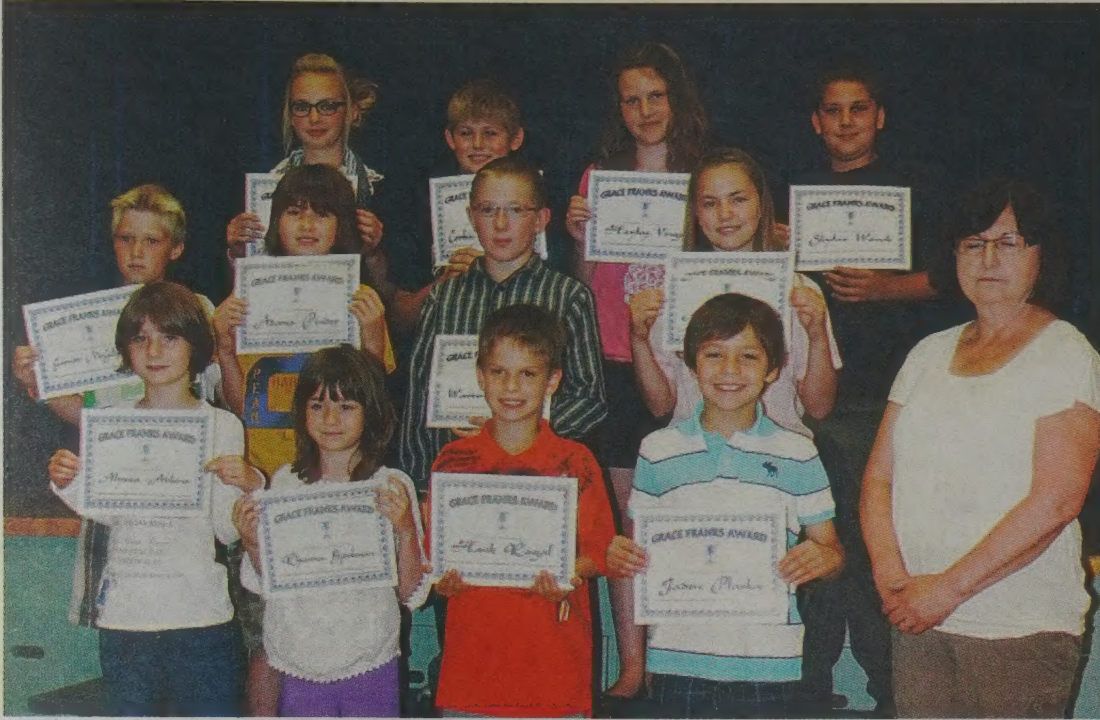

Science Awards of Excellence, music and French awards were presented in the classrooms prior to the ceremonies.

Science Awards of Excellence went to: Grade 3 - Vinny Braga, Hayden Ludlage, Rhianna Bjorkman; Grade 4 - Abby Baker, Tessa Pindroch; Grade 5 - Morgan Baker, Kira Brunner; Grade 6 - Kristy Krawchuk and Karlee Rinas, Ethan Tremblay and Bowen Krider.

Canada Day boosted by donations

By VICKI BROOKER
 Review Staff

The generosity of corporate donors and the federal government nearly doubled the Canada Day committee's bank balance during the past month and has allowed the committee to loosen the purse strings and add to the annual July 1 event, treasurer Deanna Easthope told the committee at the June 14 meeting. Canadian Heritage once again contributed $2,500 toward the event.

Among the additions is a fourth prize in each of the six parade categories: Business, Antique Vehicles, Horses and Riders, Individual Freestyle, Children's Clubs and Organizations and Adult Clubs and Organizations. Prizes of $50, $40, $30 and $20 will now be offered in each category. Parade line-up will be on Railway Ave. again this year, with judging starting at 10:30 a.m. and the kids' bicycle parade judging starting at 10:45 a.m. The parade begins at 11 a.m. and follows the same route as previous years.

Another addition, weather permitting, will be a bounce castle for the children, located near the area set aside for the children's activities, and it is hoped that the water spray park will also be in operation by that time.

There is also an addition to the day's food choices, with the Ukrainian Orthodox Church serving a pyrohy dinner at the 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Seniors' Recreation Centre.

There will again be two stage shows, with singers and dancers from the area entertaining on the Alberta Centennial Stage northwest of A. G. Ross Arena and Bald Eagle Music will entertain on the chamber of commerce stage downtown during the afternoon.

UFA headquarters and the local UFA agent have agreed to once again sponsor prizes for the Farm Survival Challenge, organizers Dave Pilisko and Laverne Wilson reported.

As of June 14, Canada Day Idol organizer Dee Pankiw had 16 paid entries, two others confirmed and four other possibilities. "We've got a show," she confirmed.

Information omitted

An important piece of information was inadvertently omitted from last week's story, "Town hears downtown proposal." This was that the actual cash required for the town to purchase the 10 acres of land from Aarbo Ranching would be $300,000. Sincere apologies to the town and to Aarbo Ranching for the omission.

Cash Calendar

Here are the Elk Point Minor Hockey Cash Calendar winners for June: Ray Danyluk - donated back to Minor Hockey, Reg Smith, Roger Pelletier, Margaret Bayduza, Jamie and Clint Povaschuk, Juanita Buck, Asteria Cueva, Margaret Bayduza, John Wozniak Sr., Brandis Graham, Guy Lamoreaux (Bonnyville), Tina Whitlock (Vermilion), Tracy Loughran and $100 winner Raymond Scott.

We occasionally get the cheques returned as address unknown or moved. In fact, that $100 winner this month just came back in the mail as moved. If you have not received your prize cheque in the mail by the end of the month, please contact Margaret at 724-2621.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Looking good!

Dear Editor:

I would like to compliment the town on all the lovely Canada Day flags that have been put up on our main streets. They look beautiful. We need to be proud of the country we live in and seeing all those flags will remind us that we are very lucky to live here. So, HATS OFF to whoever had this great idea.

WAY BACK WHEN...

Bored, baby seats, bus stop

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF JUNE 28 IN...

1986

This was the final edition featuring contributions from F. G. Miller's unforgettable Grade 9 'Bored of Education,' Denise Kissel's Language Arts class, made up of Cynthia Oester, Anthony Bayduza, Jayme Pelech, Dean Cameron, Sandy Smith, Blaine McLaughlin, Joanne Wozniak, Alan Kadutski, Angel Ference, Jesse Hillebrand, Kevin Wirsta, Jason Smereka, Joanne Wolanuk, Rob Harms, Jackie Gulayec, Leslie Kalynchuk and Tracy Oryschuk. F. G. Miller, Heinsburg and Frog Lake grad classes were all successful in meeting the 'Safe Grad' challenge.

1991

With the Elks Lodge holding a raft race as part of the Canada Day celebrations, area residents were warned, in bold type, not to stand or walk on the bridge to view the finish of the event, as this would pose a serious traffic hazard. Elk Point chamber showed enthusiastic response to a proposal by Vince Behr of Birch Hills Enterprises to create a videotape for tourist promotion in the area.

1996

Fears that a visit by a team studying schools in Northlands School Division would mean closure of J. F. Dion School at Fishing Lake brought a sizeable crowd to the settlement's general meeting, but the team assured residents that the chances of closure were "zero to nil- it's an excellently functioning school." Elk Point Lioness Club, Elk Point RCMP and Elk Point Health Unit combined forces in an effort to save lives by the proper use of approved child restraint seats.

2001

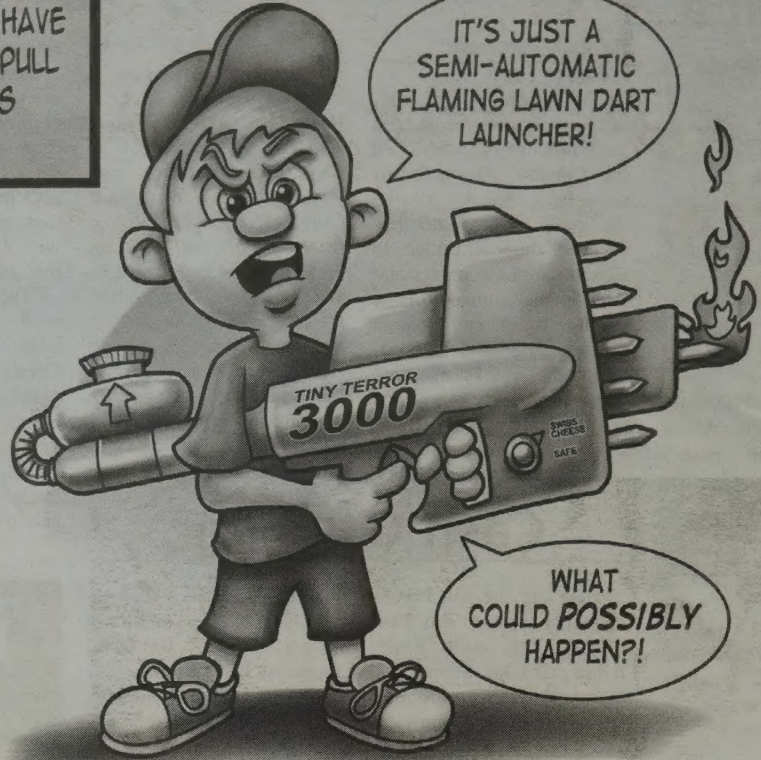

It was the end of the route for Vernon 'Babe' Sharkey, who hung up his school bus keys after 52 years of transporting district youngsters to school, starting at age 18 when he drove one of his father's buses, a 1947 model with a body constructed by the St. Paul Foundry. Mayor Ed Buck vowed to lobby long and hard for funding to help pay for new paved roads in the industrial park.

2006

Alyxandra Aarbo, Taylor Jenner, Mel Brooker and Brett Lindquist were named F. G. Miller's top junior high athletes and Cassy Cochran, Amanda Poulin, Tyson Sommerville and Wayne Anderson the top senior high athletes at the school's athletic awards banquet. Funding for Canada Day was "in good shape" with generous donations putting the budget "in the black."

GUEST COLUMN

Happy 144th Birthday Canada

As of January 1, 2011 Canada's population was estimated at 34,278,400. So we have really grown since our first discovery days. The first people are 'aboriginal' which means 'people that were there from the beginning' in other words, the people who already lived there when the Europeans arrived. Scientist don't agree, but it is said that Aboriginal people came to North America from Asia across an ice bridge that formed several thousand years before explorers started exploring North America, at the time of the ice age and before glaciers had started melting. The last group of people to cross the ice bridge became known as Eskimos. The glaciers then melted, forming all the lakes seas and rivers known to mankind today.

There are three main groups of Aboriginal peoples: First Nations (represent 50 recognized First Nations or tribal groups), Inuit and Métis (began with a First Nations woman marrying a European male).

The Vikings had a short-lived settlement in about 1000 A.D., so one could say that the Vikings first discovered Canada. However, John Cabot (known as Italian as Giovanni Cabote, c.1450-1499) was an Italian navigator and explorer whose 1497 discovery of parts of North America is commonly held to have been the first European voyager to travel to the continent of North America since the Norse-Vikings of the eleventh century. The official position of the Canadian and United Kingdom governments is that he landed on the island of Newfoundland. Jacques Cartier, a French explorer, named this country "Canada" in the year 1535. Canada is derived from Iroquois term "Kanata" which means "village".

So from the first people, Canada became a nation on July 1, 1867 with two official languages (English and French). People in Canada live in 13 provinces. At the Canadian Confederation, four provinces (Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick) came into being on July 1, 1867. Manitoba and the Northwest Territories joined on July 15, 1870. British Columbia joined July 20, 1871. Prince Edward Island joined July 1, 1873. Yukon joined June 13, 1898. Saskatchewan and Alberta both joined on September 1, 1905. Newfoundland (renamed Newfoundland and Labrador in 2001) joined March 31, 1949. The 13th province became Nunavut, which joined on April 1, 1999. So yes, we are still a young country, which grew from a few to the 34 million of today.

Fortunately, we have a national anthem which was approved by Parliament in 1967 and officially adopted under the National Anthem Act, on June 27, 1980. The music was written by composer Calixa Lavallée and the words by Judge Adophe-Basile Routhier. Of the four original texted verses, I will quote the first verse in English and in French. So happy 144th birthday, Canada, as we sing:

*O Canada! Our home and native land!
True patriot love in all thy sons command,
With glowing hearts we see thee rise,
The True North strong and free!
From far and wide,
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.
God keep our land glorious and free!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee!*

*Ô Canada, Terre de nos aïeux,
Ton front est ceint de fleurons glorieux!
Car ton bras sait porter l'épée,
Il sait porter la croix!
Ton histoire est une épopée
Des plus brillants exploits.
Et ta valeur, de foi trempée,
Protégera nos foyers et nos droits,
Protégera nos foyers et nos droits.*

Local athlete makes Team Alberta

By MURRAY COCHRANE
Review Contributor

Taylor Cochrane, a local Elk Point athlete, has been successful in following her dreams to play softball.

Taylor started the journey to Team Alberta last summer, attending a tryout camp in Leduc, where there were about 80 girls born in 1995, 1996 and 1997 in attendance. There was a similar camp held in Strathmore for the south part of the province, with about 100 girls attending. In total, approximately 180 girls started the process. After a full weekend of skills and drills, the coaches quickly made cuts and the next part of the journey was a camp at the end of August in Innisfail, with 60 girls attending another weekend of aggressive ball skills. By the end of September the coaching staff had reduced the number to 26 girls. Taylor had to present the coaches with a plan for off-season training, which was to include her activities both ball and non-ball related. Along with working on her pitching Taylor also participated in Ukrainian dance, senior high volleyball and basketball. During the winter months, Taylor managed to pitch in the gym at the school twice a week and had four or five visits to Edmonton to work with Jackie Desilets, her pitching instructor. Next up was an instructional camp in Camrose in April in which no cuts were being made. The coaches wanted to see the skills the girls had and if they had changed over the winter.

From there, the coaches divided the 26 girls into two teams for a women's fastball tournament in Edmonton at John Fry Park on May long weekend. Taylor was on Team Blue. They played Calahoo Senior A women's team, Edmonton Junior Belles, Rivercity Hornets Midget A team and Team White, the other half of Team Alberta, and this proved to be very strong competition for the weekend. The coaches had a tough job to do, cutting the roster from 26 down to 14. As the girls were all anxious, the coaches quickly made their decisions and calls were made on the Monday following the weekend tourney.

Taylor was ecstatic that she was selected to represent Team Alberta at the Western Canadian Summer Games in Kamloops this August.

Taylor started her ball career as a member of Elk Point Minor Ball back when she was four years old, when she was coached by our very own Laverne Wilson. Unfortunately, in 2006 the time came when there was not a local team for her to play on and because of her love of the game, the decision was made by her parents to travel to allow her to play ball. She played with a Lakeland team as a first year squirt, with Lloydminster Competitive as a second year squirt, back with the Lakeland team as a first year peeewe and has continued with Lloydminster ever since.

Taylor has had a successful ball career; the past two years her team has received medals at their Provincial tournaments. Her Rebels teams have won silver as Peeewe B in 2009, and silver as Bantam B last year. She also had the opportunity to play with the Zone 7 Team for the Alberta Summer Games in 2010, in which they also received a silver medal.

This year Taylor is once again playing with the Lloydminster Rebels as a Bantam A and so far has had a strong season despite the poor weather they have encountered. There is still a lot of ball left to play, with league and tournaments. Her Provincials will be held in Lloydminster on July 8 - 10, with six teams from around Alberta participating. The top two teams will move on to Nationals in Winnipeg on Aug 18 - 21, and the third and fourth place teams will move on to Westerns in Saskatoon on July 28 - 31. We wish Taylor good luck in the rest of her ball season.

Sox lead province's competitive teams

Whenever two ball teams have a little history, there's always going to be a little trash talk and some chirping coming out of the dug out, it's normal especially when you're dealing with teenaged boys. Wednesday night the Sox hosted Vegreville on the only dry day we've had this past week.

The Sox and the Big Egg have played each other many times in the past; both teams are highly competitive, including the coaching staff and play for all the marbles.

Starting on the hill, for the Sox, their hometown ace Dylan "Juiced" Berg. But it wasn't one of Bergie's best outings, Dylan chucking the first three innings; he shut them down in the first two, but allowed four runs in the third; the game tied at this point 4-all.

BASSETT
Review Sports

Top of the fourth, Jordan Stacy taking over pitching duties on the mound, the Bears would squeeze one in and take a 5 to 4 lead. Bottom of the fifth, the Sox with two runners in scoring position, Dustin "Dusty" Berg at the plate with the count loaded, would come through and cash them in with a single up the middle, the Sox taking a one run lead. Pitcher Jordan Stacy now in control, striking out six, and with some outstanding fielding behind him shut down the Bears for the final three innings and the Sox win, the final score 8 to 5.

With a 10 and one record, the Sox are now sitting up on top of all the competitive teams in the province as we enter July. Re-tied this past weekend, we will be meeting some tougher competition from Southern Alberta this coming weekend.

The Puma Squirt girls played a great game here on Sunday morning against Bonnyville. Amy Harms and Taylor Pankiw doing a super job of pitching strikes, Morgan Baker with excellent back catching skills, blocking wild pitches and throwing bullets to the bases.

And now for the K. A. Campbell quote of the week. "I think a baseball field must be the most beautiful thing in the world. It's so honest and precise. And we play on it. Every star gets humbled. Every mediocre player has a great moment." Last week's answer to: "Correct thinkers think that 'baseball trivia' is an oxymoron: nothing about baseball is trivial." - George F. Will.

"Mr. Bjorkman didn't remember his grad, and you probably won't," The Hon. Ray Danyluk said. "It's what you take from the opportunities you have had at F. G. Miller, it's this school, community and area that you will represent in later life. So many people would take pride in coming from a community like this. It has been Premier Ed Stelmach's vision to build infrastructure for students, teachers, patients and doctors. You have been born with technology, technology that doubles every 18 months. You need to be able to adapt, to be flexible. In this province and this school, we have the best educational system in the world."

"Be passionate, be proud, be you," Danyluk concluded.

Town Coun. Bernice Capjack brought greetings from the mayor and council, and congratulated the school on the distinction recently received in the Fraser Institute report. As a former teacher of many of these students, she is "proud to see your persistence paid off. There are new roads before you. All of life is an education. You have so much life to live, and you all have so much to offer."

"Don't be afraid to have a dream," Superintendent of Schools Glen Brodziak said was one of two views he found in researching graduation speeches, the other being, "You've been through struggles that will prepare you for what life has to offer." Both speeches, he said, were from university speakers in 1993-94. "Maybe not much changes after all." Instead, he "decided to talk about choices. School should have given you the tools to weigh your options. So many choices are yours to make. Make your own future, make your own hope."

Younghans returned to the stage to present diplomas as the grads were introduced by Suzanne Beckett and Diana Richer.

Theresa Wade and Angeline Berland presented Wayne Fiddler and Kimmy Hudy with gifts from the Frog Lake Chief and council.

Lorne Dustow of Fishing Lake Settlement council, Loretta Calliou of the Métis Settlements General Council and Karen Telford of Northlands School Division presented gifts to Blake Desjarlais, Brent Durocher-Lacombe and Stephan John.

Hollie Warkentin and Eryn Smith of F. G. Miller's P.U.P. Program presented gifts of appreciation to Megan Tetlock and Brianna White.

Taylor Robbie, Tori Becker and Brendan Bishop introduced a slide show created by Taylor.

Courtney MacLellan offered thanks to the parents, who "have been there for us since the beginning. We are here because of their dedication and care, their many sacrifices of time and energy. We will continue to enjoy their support."

Caitlin Brooks thanked the "amazing teachers with whom we all have a unique bond. So many great teachers have contributed to our education. We remember all those who let us cross their bridge."

Brianna White thanked the community that "brought us up to be strong, who guided us. Our past and our experiences will be with us forever. You make Elk Point the right place to be." The three presented gifts to class treasurer Margaret White and grad supervisor Cheri Lindquist.

With her 22nd FGM grad now drawing to a close, Lindquist said she felt the theme was "very fitting. Twenty-seven of 39 completed Grade 12 at the end of January, and the other 12 have the potential to graduate. Way to go, guys." She reminded them, "Life is a journey, not a guided tour. Be resourceful and flexible."

The ceremony concluded with the presentation of the Crusader sword by grads Tori Becker and Gregory Babcock to Grade 11s Wyatt Dewan and Bailey Oster, representing the Class of 2012.

Presenting F. G. Miller's Class of 2011: Gregory Babcock, Tori Becker, Brendan Bishop, Ben Blacklock, Mel Brooker, Caitlin Brooks, Blake Desjarlais, Brent Durocher-Lacombe, Seanna Ewasiuk, Wayne Fiddler, Travis Houle, Kimbely Hudy, Colton Hymanyk, Stephan John, Dylan Kwasnycia, Scott Labrie, Harrison Maas, Courtney MacLellan, Kate Mosley, Jordan Mudryk, Jordan Nelson, Alanna Ockerman, Kyle Pelletier, Taylor Robbie, Kaitlyn Roberts, Tiffany Schade, Mason Smith, Jonathan Suvak, Zane Szeponski, Megan Tetlock, Luke Tilley, John Waboose, Beth Warholik, Brianna White, Jordyn Wozniak, Myles Yarmuch and (not shown) Dustin Berg and Dylan Berg.

Passing on the Crusader sword

Tori Becker and Gregory Babcock passed the ceremonial Crusader sword to Bailey Oster and Wyatt Dewan of the Class of 2012.

Valedictorian Brendan Bishop offered memories of the many years and experiences he and his classmates have enjoyed together.

Angeline Berland and Theresa Wade presented gifts from the Frog Lake Chief and council to Kimbely Hudy and Wayne Fiddler.

Proud P.U.P. Chapter members Megan Tetlock and Brianna White were honoured for their valuable efforts.

Blake Desjarlais, Brent Durocher-Lacombe and Stephan John were presented with Métis sashes from Fishing Lake Settlement Council.

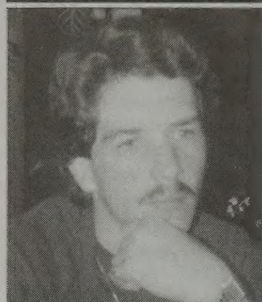

Rural Crime Watch revitalization underway

IN MEMORIAM

BERG, Dennis John

In loving memory of our Dear Son and Brother, who passed away on July 2, 1989.

More each passing year we miss him,
Many think the heart is healed,
But they know little of the sorrow,
Lying in our hearts concealed.

A silent thought, a secret tear,
Keeps his memory ever dear,
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.

We think of you with love today,
As we have done so often,
We feel once more the bitter blow,
That does not seem to soften.

Deep in our hearts your memory is kept,
To love, to cherish and never forget.
Sweetly, tender, forever true,
There is not a day that we do not think of you.

May the winds of love blow gently,
And whisper so you can hear;
How much we love and miss you,
And wish that you were here.

Missed beyond words, loving you forever. All your loving family.

flabbergasted" by the large crowd that packed the A. G. Ross Arena lobby Wednesday for a meeting aimed at bringing Rural Crime Watch back to the area.

The meeting was organized by concerned citizens and the Elk Point RCMP to attempt to form a Rural Crime Watch for this area, as many had thought the Greater Lakeland organization, which covers the entire County of St. Paul, was no longer operating. However, Kohl said the group is still in existence, but sorely lacking in member interest and activity.

"We only 10 to 15 people at our AGM," Kohl said. "It's dead in the water. At one time, we had 700 members, now we only have about 400."

He said there is no need to start a new group, unless the Elk Point area residents wish to do so. "You people have been in our area all along. Greater Lakeland is divided into 13 zones and we would like to have a coordinator from each of them. Mildred Dunham is your representative."

Kohl outlined the purpose of Rural Crime Watch as being "eyes and ears for the RCMP. The farm community has the best people for this, they're out in the field or on the road to town and they see what's going on." If members see a suspicious vehicle, they get a description and report it to the RCMP, he noted. "We try to help them, and they try to help us."

Rural Crime Watch also has such equipment as engravers that can be used to mark possessions for identification purposes, and at one time, the Elk Point RCMP had a video camera that members could use to record the contents of their homes for insurance purposes. The organization also has a phone fan-out system to inform members of criminal activity in the area.

"There's a lot of work to be done," Kohl said. "If we could get new people on board, we could see more action. At one time, we were the top Rural Crime Watch. It was really lively."

Bonnie Felker, office administrator of the Alberta Provincial Rural Crime Watch Association and Trevor Tychkowsky, president of the neighbouring Smoky Lake Rural Crime Watch and member of the provincial board, also spoke at the meeting.

"It's nice to see the variety of ages here," Felker commented, noting that Rural Crime Watch is "Neighbourhood Watch on a larger scale. People move to the country without knowing how important neighbours are and may not realize how far away that help may be in terms of distance and time. People need to be able to depend on their neighbours."

"A lot of Rural Crime Watch members also belong to COPS," she noted. Fish and Wildlife officers, Alberta Conservation and the Highway Patrol also work with Rural Crime Watch and the RCMP.

Poaching, rustling, quads and snowmobiles entering private property without permission are all "reasons for family and neighbours to keep your eyes open." Felker urged everyone to "have something that says where you are" by the phone for emergency use, whether by the homeowner or visitors who may not know the location. In case of an incident, "descriptions and the more information the better" can help to solve crimes. "This is what you as a family and community do for each other."

Tychkowsky is aware of the importance of the rural addressing system in that country and ours.

"People, please learn that number," Tychkowsky said of the rural addresses posted by each residence. "It should be right by your phone. It pinpoints right where you are" to emergency service providers.

Tychkowsky brought along a power point presentation that outlined the connection between the RCMP and Rural Crime Watch, along with the organization's mission and roles and a list of information sessions that are available.

Displaying one of the bright yellow Rural Crime Watch signs, Tychkowsky said, "You need to paint your community with these. They say, 'we are an active group and we're going to do something.' You've already taken a stand by being here tonight. If you want to make a difference, we'll give you the tools."

"It really comes back to you," RCMP Cst. Adam Bullock, who has been designated as Elk Point's Rural Crime Watch liaison, told the crowd. "You can help get St. Paul resurrected or your can start your own. What do you want to do?"

"I'll do what I can to help," Kohl said. "I've run out of ideas and run out of steam."

"We need to make a decision," local resident Levina Ewasjuk said. "There are advantages to becoming part of Greater Lakeland."

Darlene Sereda agreed. "If it's for the County of St. Paul, let's continue with it. It's important to resurrect it and we're willing to help."

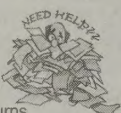

The indication of interest prompted Kohl and vice-president Wes Bennett to agree to set up a meeting in St. Paul in July.

The Rural Crime Watch float will be in Elk Point's Canada Day parade and will be parked near the A. G. Ross Arena after the parade and Ewasjuk and Sereda will help to hand out information and membership forms to anyone interested in joining Rural Crime Watch.
